Individuals Groups Virtual

With 17 faculties in three different cities, Charles University does not have one central campus. Instead, the faculties, dorms, and refectories are spread around the city (cities, in fact) with some faculties having their own little campuses. Take a look at the map of just the main faculty buildings in Prague:

Individual visits

Given the spatial distribution of our university and the large number of applicants, we are not able to give private tours. Instead, the International Student Hub \(CU Point\) offers information and guidance to both applicants and current students alike (in-person or online). It is always recommended to make an appointment in advance or join any of the events for international applicants, such as Open Door Days, virtual office hours, or webinars with our current students and alumni.

You may also contact the faculty's Admissions Office and inquire about the possibility to meet with the faculty representatives or student ambassadors directly.

Group visits

Charles University offers various types of English-language activities for the public. Most of these are suitable for elementary or high schools students – groups accompanied by their teachers or counsellors. Some may be also arranged for companies, partners etc.
