
Scope of the Ombudsperson

The ombudsman's sphere of competency covers a wide variety of complaints. These chiefly include:

- ? bullying, discrimination, inappropriate behaviour and unequal treatment, sexual harassment, bossing, mobbing, conflicts of interest
- ? unjustified delays and inactivity by a competent body
- ? breaches of statutory regulations, including internal regulations of the University or constituent parts and other similar actions that are to the detriment of the person concerned
- ? other situations that the complainant considers to be an encroachment on their dignity and that affect the conditions for their study or work

Further information about individual situations:

- Sexual harassment
- Workplace bullying