
CU Alumni Club Ambassador Programme

If you are a really proud graduate with a strong desire to become an extension of Charles University and to help it abroad (and maybe even in your home country), we will be delighted to welcome you to our CU Alumni Club Ambassador Programme.

Why become a Charles University Ambassador? You will be a recognised part of the university community, with access to its various institutions as well as VIP members, who you will get the opportunity to meet. You will get extraordinary opportunities that will open doors to places you wouldn't normally get access to, as well as valuable experience and new contacts with prominent experts. As part of your training, you will also get access to further education, including soft skills, and other services offered by units of the University for free or at a discount. And not only that: we will reward your proactivity with other benefits. Well, wouldn't this position look good on your CV?

What does an ambassador of the CU Alumni Club do?

Being an ambassador means actively representing the University and contributing to building and maintaining relationships between the University and its graduates. Ambassadors promote the values and achievements of the University and spreads its reputation in order to motivate not only new applicants for study, but also potential international cooperation partners. Ambassadors also support the activities of the University, assist in the organisation of and participation in various events, especially abroad, organised by CU and its partners, and participates in these.

These events include:

- Higher education fairs and exhibitions
- Alumni meetups and other alumni gatherings
- Conferences
- Benefit and charity events
- Attendance at formal ceremonies

And what else could you do?

- Promotion of the University on social media
- Promotion at secondary schools
- Provision of an interview and/or writing articles for the University's Forum magazine
- Mentoring and coaching
- Lectures and presentations

We discuss specific tasks with each ambassador individually. According to the content of their work, they can then receive some material remuneration.

So don't delay and join our community!
