

---

Outgoing Students

---

International cooperation is a key part of Charles University. The university participates in research projects, is a member of prestigious networks, and actively supports both student and academic mobility.

As a Charles University degree student, you have a wide range of opportunities to study abroad. The most popular options are the Erasmus+ programme and inter-university agreements, but there are many more possibilities. These include enrolling in joint degree programmes, going abroad for summer school or as a free mover, or even applying for international scholarships that can cover the cost of your stay and tuition.

You can also get inspired by the experiences of fellow students on our Charles Abroad website